

Sinclair Broadcasting's outrageous choice, making all its stations show an anti-Kerry film right now, shows us the inevitable in this era of media consolidation monopoly.

The thing that matters most is not that this company is run by scoundrels - or even that they are pushing their politics on the air ..... it's that Sinclair is using "public air" - so to speak (and with no charge)! I think they have to serve the public if they use our air, and must do so according to useful historic convention. Under the influence of media consolidation monopoly, they can scorn convention - and any concept of the public good or justice or fairness ("fair use").

Sinclair's actions require FCC condemnation and restraint. Thank you for your attention.
